March 2018—This Month's Theme: Anger

This month's theme is anger, an emotion with great potential both for good and ill. When we are prompted by anger to work for change, it can be one of the most valuable of emotions. When we are overcome by rage, it can be one of the most destructive. Learning how to manage and appropriately target our anger is an essential part of becoming more ethical.

Sunday, March 4, 11 a.m. Platform—Arts Festival "Playhouse Emissions: Climate Change Theatre" That Uppity Theater Company and Ashleyliane Dance Company

There is overwhelming scientific consensus that climate change is real, human-caused, and will have catastrophic effects. Yet it is still a struggle to educate and motivate the public to take action. Theatre has the power to inform and move people. Climate Change Theatre Action 2017 was a worldwide series of performances of short plays inspired by climate change and prevailing attitudes toward science.

Louis, the plays were selected from over 25 cultures, including perspectives from low-lying nations threatened by sea-level change and countries facing severe heat-waves, floods, or droughts. The Platform will also include a performance from Ashley Tate of Ashleyliane Dance Company.

"Climate change is one of the greatest challenges facing us as a global community. Scientists estimate that we have 15 years to decarbonize the economy if we want to stave off the worse impacts of climate change."—Joan Lipkin

This special Arts Festival Platform will reprise several of the vignettes and performances seen at the Ethical Society last fall, produced by That Uppity Theatre Company Producing Artistic Director Joan Lipkin (Ethical Society Ethical Humanist of the Year Awardee) and Pamela Reckamp. Read by some of the leading actors in St

First Sunday Lunch: The Ethical Navigators of St. Louis are hosting first Sunday lunch on March 4th after platform. Vegetarian and meat lasagna, salad, bread, and dessert are on the menu. Price is $6 for adults and $4 for children under 12. The Ethical Navigators of St. Louis are an inclusive group of families and scouting enthusiasts at the Ethical Society of St. Louis open to boys and girls, and focused on caring for the earth, outdoor skills, and ethical values. We are always seeking new members! Children ages 4-18 and their families are welcome to join us for a meeting or outing. Contact ethicalnav@gmail.com for more information.

Sunday, March 11, 11 a.m. Platform "Get Angry, Make Change"; James Croft, Outreach Director Music: Kevin Lucas, marimba

Often, anger is characterized as a "negative" emotion, something to be lessened or avoided. But anger is an appropriate response to injustice and is often necessary for social progress. If we don't get angry about the problems of the world, we won't be motivated to solve them. Anger is essential if we want to make change.

Spring Forward!
Daylight Savings
Time begins March 11.

Sunday, March 18, 11 a.m. Platform

“Is Sexual Harassment Finally Being Taken Seriously?”; Kate Lovelady, Leader Music: Eimear Arkins and Eileen Gannon, Irish harp and violin

Society at large and many industries seem finally to be acknowledging and responding to the reality that so many women have lived for so long—widespread sexual harassment. How can we all be part of the solution and not part of the problem?

Split Collection

Half of today’s *undesignated collection will be donated to Planned Parenthood of the St. Louis Region and Southwest Missouri, which provides and supports reproductive and sexual health services, access, and rights; plannedparenthood.org. (*If you pay your membership pledge through the collection, write “pledge” on your check, and it will not be divided.)

Sunday, March 25, 11 a.m. Platform

“Full Effort Is Full Victory: Gandhi, King, and the Path of Persistent Peace”; Nartana Premachandra. Music: Leah Haynes, violin

“I have learnt through bitter experience the one supreme lesson to conserve my anger, and as heat conserved is transmuted into energy, even so our anger controlled can be transmuted into a power which can move the world.”—Mahatma Gandhi.

Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr.’s famed principle of nonviolent resistance was heavily influenced by the teachings of the great Indian leader Mohandas Gandhi. How, in turn, did Gandhi develop his ideas of nonviolence? How did he channel his anger into a peaceful force for social justice?

Nartana Premachandra is a writer, classical Indian dancer, public speaker, and President of Dances of India—one of the oldest classical Indian dance companies in the US, now celebrating its 41st season. She has performed widely around St. Louis and speaks on topics ranging from South Asian art to the Silk Road. She has lived in France, England, and Japan and spent many summers in India; NartanaPremachandra.com.

Youth Group Dinner Dance!—An Evening of Espionage, March 3

The Youth Group invites you all to a top-secret dinner dance from 6 to 10 p.m. at the Ethical Society. Buy your tickets in advance for $20 (adults) and $10 (children under 12)—Buy 3 tickets, get one free! Tickets will be available at the door for $25 (adults) and $15 (kids). Beef stroganoff and vegetables will be served; vegan and meat options will be available.

March Parent Talk—Regulating Emotions; Shannon Davis, School Psychologist

The first Sunday of each month at 10 a.m., SEEK (Sunday Ethical Education for Kids program) organizes an informal discussion among parents of infants through teens in the library. March 4, we’ll talk about how we can support kids to develop healthy emotional regulation skills. For more information about SEEK contact Rachel Valenti (rvalenti@ethicalstl.org).

Promote Ethical Action on a National Level

The American Ethical Union is seeking a volunteer team leader to lead the AEU Ethical Action Committee. The committee meets monthly via video conference to plan and organize activities, including:

- Reviewing ethical action sponsorship/endorsement opportunities and making recommendations to the AEU Board.

- Helping develop and review ethical action statements for the AEU.
- Assisting Ethical Societies to follow up on AEU ethical action resolutions.
- Communicating with Societies regarding ethical action through AEU publications, webinars, video conferencing, and Assembly workshops.

If you’re interested, or for more information, contact Kate Lovelady (klovelady@ethicalstl.org).

Bad Weather Policy and Driveway De-icing

The Society driveway heaters broke last spring after 50 years of faithful service. Replacements will be extremely difficult and expensive, so this winter we are contracting for extra salt treatments. Please use caution (and low gear!) on steep hills in icy or snowy conditions; check with activity organizers for cancellations.

Decisions to close the building are based on MoDOT and weather warnings. Whenever possible, cancelation of Sunday meetings will be made Saturday night and shared through the Society website and Facebook page; channels 2, 4, and 5 (and their websites); in an email to the membership; and at (314) 991-0955 x 224.

International Institute Volunteer Opportunities

Ethical Society volunteers support recent immigrants and refugees through the International Institute, primarily by providing food for and attending monthly community luncheons. Lunch dates at the International Institute in 2018 are February 22, March 22, April 26, July 26, September 20, and October 25. If you are interested in volunteering (once or regularly), or for more information, contact David Brown, david@theBrownGreens.com.

9:45 Forum, March 4—The Ethics of Social Media

It is estimated that there will be 2.77 billion social media users in the world in 2019. What are the ethical issues associated with social media use? What sort of ethical decision-making is involved when creating content for social media? How can we use the technology to effectively and ethically reach out and connect with others, while creating relationships and building trust? Please join Outreach Director James Croft and Social Media Manager Louse Jett to discuss these questions and more on Sunday, March 4 at 9:45 a.m. in the Hanke Room.

9:45 Forum, March 11—Can Nature Heal Our Beleaguered Species?

Almost every week we learn more about the Earth's climate and the evolution of life on it. As humans evolved over several million years—first walking on two legs and later constructing language-based cultures with our flexible hands and large brains—climate change was a major player. Now we stand in a different environment undergoing a unique surge of climate change, painfully divided by our differences while possessing the means for global changes. As in the past, how we survive and thrive depends on thinking and working together. Join Ethical Society member and author of Our Beleaguered Species: Beyond Tribalism, Elizabeth Zel- man, on Sunday, March 11 at 9:45 a.m. in the Hanke Room, to discuss how the wisdom of naturalists, and nature itself, can help us toward a positive outcome.

9:45 Forum, March 18—Encore of “Segregation in St. Louis” Presentation

There was such great interest in this Forum last September that many folks could not get in the room! So we will have an encore presentation and discussion on Sunday, March 18 at 9:45 a.m. of “The Architecture of Segregation in St. Louis: A Look at Concentrating Poverty Across The Metro Area.” Now's your chance to learn about the continuing impacts of redlining and the barriers for credit access that keep the cycle of segregation and poverty going. In the aftermath of the most recent economic crisis, over half of black household wealth was destroyed. Black home-ownership rates are lower than at the time of the passage of the Fair Housing Act, and school segregation is higher than at the time of Brown vs. Board of Education. How has public policy largely driven all of the above? Presenter: Glenn Burleigh, Community Engagement Specialist for the Metropolitan St. Louis Equal Housing and Opportunity Council.

International Relations Discussion Group in March: The Future of Europe

The International Relations Discussion Group, facilitated by member Roy Overmann, is now meeting on the last Monday of each month at 7 p.m. in the Hanke Room. The group is following the Great Decisions Program of the Foreign Policy

Association. The March topic is “The Waning of Pax Americana.”

End Racism Events in March

The End Racism Discussion Group meets third Mondays at 7 p.m. in the Board Room, basing discussions each month on a variety of readings, videos, podcasts, etc. Topic for March 19: We will look at racism toward Native Americans, based on readings from Lies My Teacher Told Me, discussion led by Jim Mason. For more information or to join the email reminder list, contact Sue Williams, swillia43@att.net.

Black Lives Matter Vigil. Every second Sunday, Society members and friends gather on Clayton Road to uphold the dignity and worth of every person and support the movement for black lives. Join us March 11 at noon for fifteen minutes or stay for the full hour. We have signs to share. All ages are welcome.

9:45 Forum. Encore presentation of Glenn Burleigh's “Architecture of Segregation in St. Louis”; see above.

Ongoing Food Drive

To help meet the crushing need for emergency food supplies in our region, the Society is collecting food donations each week for Operation Food Search. Look for the bright blue barrel downstairs across from the kitchen. Please note, OFS doesn't accept ramen noodles, junk food, sugary drinks, nor glass containers. A list of “most needed” items is posted on the downstairs bulletin board. If you would like to volunteer to help with this effort, contact Gayle Rose, justgayle@gmail.com.

TWA Talk

The Tuesday Women's Association (TWA) meets in the Becker Room (except where noted) on Tuesdays from 10 a.m. until after noon, August through June. After the morning programs, all are invited to stay for a brown-bag lunch followed by news of members, roundtables, and/or mah jongg at 12:30 p.m.

March 6. Book Review: The Language of Trees by Steve Wiegenstein. Reviewer: Ruth Hyman

March 13. 10:45 a.m.—International Relations Lecture Series: "Human Trafficking: An International Problem"; Whitney Howland, Human Trafficking Victim Services Social Worker, International Institute of St. Louis. Ms. Howland provides intensive case management to clients, screens potential trafficking victims, and provides technical assistance and training to service providers. She is the agency's liaison to the Federal District of Eastern Missouri's Human Trafficking Task Force and organizes the St. Louis Rescue and Restore Coalition. Coordinator: Pam Ross; Assistant Coordinator: Julia Triplett. Co-sponsored by the American Association of University Women.

March 20. Trip to the Missouri History Museum. THIS TOUR WILL BE 2-3 P.M. WE PLAN TO HAVE LUNCH BEFORE THE TOUR, ARRANGEMENTS TO BE ANNOUNCED. Join us to visit the outstanding Missouri History Museum and see the fasinating special exhibit #1 in Civil Rights: The African American Freedom Struggle in St. Louis, which explores St. Louis's significance in the Civil Rights movement. Look for photographs featuring TWA members Billie Teneau and Joyce Best standing in solidarity as barriers were broken. We will have a docent-led tour.

March 27. "Sarees of India"; Saroja Bhat, TWA member, will talk about the different types of sarees, various fabrics, colors and their significance. She will also demonstrate how a saree is worn and will bring along some examples.

Men's Discussion Group, Tuesday Mornings

Each Tuesday, 10 a.m. to noon, the Men's Forum gathers in the Hanke Room; participants are invited to stay after for a brown-bag lunch. All are welcome, Ethical Society members and visitors. Just bring an open mind and a small cash donation for the hot drinks and doughnuts that are usually available.

March 6. 10 a.m. Member Bob Saigh will give a presentation about film director and producer Spike Lee. Bob's favorite Spike Lee movies are "Do the Right Thing" and "When the Levee Breaks."

March 13. 10 a.m. Brief meeting. 10:45 a.m.: TWA Lecture series. See above.

March 20. 10 a.m. "Changing understandings about homosexuality"; Kate Lovelady and James Croft.

March 27. 10 a.m. Member Roy Overmann will lead a discussion on current American foreign policy.

Member News

A Warm Welcome to the Following New Members:

Nancy Belt's pre-retirement occupations included teaching piano students in private lessons and college courses, teaching elementary-school vocal music, being a staff writer and editor, and having varied roles in advertising and public relations. Her passions are music—especially classical and jazz—poetry, politics, and current affairs. She is joining to work with others seeking transformative action for social justice.

Melissa Brown is a dietetics student and public health project manager. Her passions are bicycling, health and wellness, good food, and social justice. Her spouse, Matthew, is a member, and she is ready to officially join the community she has been involved with for several years.

Jessica Donahoe is a data analyst whose passions are reading, traveling, learning, and animal care. She is joining to learn new perspectives and build/maintain connections to humanity in general.

Beth Gatmaitan works in information technology. Her passions are nature, reading/writing, exercise, food, and cooking. She is joining to find a community of like-minded individuals.

Dennis Johnson is retired and his interests are environmental justice and population control. His son, Michael, and Michael's wife and children are members and he is looking forward to joining a community of people with whom he shares common interests for learning, growing, and making a difference in the world.

Kristen Rosen works in international student admissions and support at Webster University. Her interests are reading, yoga, cooking vegetarian recipes, ice skating, cross-cultural exchange, anti-racism efforts, and continuing to learn and grow. She's joining to connect with a community of people who share a commitment to living ethical lives and being there for each other.

Please send member news to klovelady@ethicalstl.org.

Committee of Concern

When you or a family member is ill or experiencing tough times, a call from a concerned friend means so much. Whether the caller just asks, "How are you doing today?" or offers assistance, you know someone cares. That is what the Committee of Concern does for Ethical Society members. If you are a member in need of such support or know of a member who is, or if you would like to be a part of this caring team, please contact Jeanette Langton, ethicalstl-coc@yahogroups.com; (314) 707-0658 .

Science Enthusiasts Club in March:

The Science Enthusiasts Club (SEC) is for anyone interested in new scientific discoveries and their impact on society. You don't have to be a scientist to be part of the discussion, you just need to love science! We meet 3rd Tuesdays at 7 p.m. in the Hanke Room. On March 20, the SEC will discuss "What can neuroscience teach us about the nature of consciousness?"

For more information, to join the email list for monthly readings, or to suggest upcoming topics, contact Rich Feldenberg, richard.feldenberg@health.slu.edu.

Fundraiser for SEEK at MOD Pizza, March 25

Join us for lunch immediately after the Platform or grab lunch or dinner to go on Sunday March 25 at MOD Pizza in Ladue Crossing Shopping Center (8855K Ladue Rd. 63124). The food is delicious and affordable, and for every customer that presents a flyer during the fundraiser (can be shown on your phone) MOD will donate 20% of their purchase to the Ethical Society SEEK program. Pick up your flyer at the Society throughout March or find it on our Facebook page.

Update on JUST WRITE—An Ethical Society Writers' Group

The first meeting of the Ethical Society writers' group, JUST WRITE!, is rescheduled for 6 p.m., Monday, March 5, in the boardroom. (The February meeting was cancelled due to bad weather and an under-the-weather facilitator.)

The good news is that many people are interested in attending. The bad news is that we are already at our limit of 12 people. However, it's possible that not everyone who signed up will attend or will want to stay, so if you have not already signed up and are interested in the group, please email Bobbi Linkemer (bobbi.linkemer@gmail.com) to be put on a waiting list.

Next Round of Ethicurean Dinners will be April

Ethicurean Dinners are potlucks in members' homes, held on the second weekends of October, January, April, and July. If you haven't signed up and want to attend the remaining 2 dinners, contact Andie

Jackson (andreajackson568@gmail.com; 314-960-2885) with your name(s), email, phone number, whether you have pets and/or allergies to any, preferred night if any (Friday, Saturday, or Sunday), impossible nights if any, and also whether you can host one time per year and for how many (4, 6, 8, or 10 counting yourself). You won't be asked to host for your first dinner.

March's Ethical Edge Topic: The Ethics of Gun Ownership

Ethical Edge is a monthly guided discussion of an ethical issue preceded by a short presentation. This month's topic: As the US reels from another horrific school shooting, it is more essential than ever to explore the ethics of gun ownership. Do we have a moral right to own a personal firearm? Is it ethically right for us to buy one, even if we have the legal right to do so? Do the risks to society of gun ownership outweigh the benefits to an owner to the degree that they should be illegal? How do the ethics of gun ownership square up against the ethics of other, more tightly controlled items? Explore all these questions and more in a friendly, facilitated environment, Thursday, March 22, at 6:30 p.m. at Café Ventana (3919 W. Pine Blvd). Food and drink are available to purchase from the café, so come eat and discuss!

Upcoming Science Fiction Book Club Meetings, 4th Mondays

The Ethical Society Science Fiction Book Club meets 4th Mondays, 7-8:30 p.m., in Kate Lovelady's office. All are welcome to any meeting, even if you haven't finished the book.

March 26. Trading in Danger by Elizabeth Moon. Host: Cy Henningsen.

April 23. Startide Rising by David Brin. Host: Mitch Harden.

May 28. Sea of Rust by C. Robert Cargill. Host: Dennis Roach.

You can also find information on the Ethical Society Science Fiction Book Club on Facebook.

Tai Chi Classes in March and April

Beginning March 6, we will learn the Thirteen Postures, the "alphabet" of all Tai Chi movements and a short form that is fun to practice. We will also learn Tai Chi Walking, an everyday activity that can embody all of the Tai Chi principles. This class is perfect for beginners and useful for those who know some Tai Chi. Classes meet each Tuesday, 5-6:30 p.m. in the Hanke Room. We ask for a $5 donation to support the Society. All are welcome, and bring a friend!

Instructor Don Beere has been learning and practicing Tai Chi for over 40 years, including being certified in TaiJi for Arthritis by Dr. Paul Lam. For more information, contact Don (beere1db@cmich.edu; 859-912-0012). More about Don's Tai Chi background at <http://donaldbeere.com>

Around the Building

Ron and Kent under the dishwasher

The Dynamic Duo, Ron Wirts and Kent Forrest! These two are knocking out projects left and right! First, they replaced a leaky pipe underneath the dish sanitizer in the kitchen. Tight working conditions for sure, but they persisted for the better part of a day and made the repair. Next, the Photo Ops bulletin board, which used to hang in the Library, is now in the Hanke Room. Kent reduced its size and added some support pieces, and Ron assisted in getting it mounted on the wall. Stop in to admire the lovely display of photographs taken by several of our members. Additional thanks to Kent for gluing down and filling in the chipped corners on numerous linoleum tiles throughout the building.

Flipped Out. We are pancake-making ready in the kitchen thanks to friend Randal Blain, who donated several much-needed, brand-new spatulas, plus cooking and serving spoons to our kitchen. Who's bringing the syrup?

Interested in helping with our building and grounds? We can put your handy talents to good use if you have an hour or two to take on a minor maintenance project; please contact Facility Coordinator Kitt Rogers ([kr Rogers@ethicalstl.org](mailto:kr Rogers@ethicalstl.org); 314-991-0955 x 211).

Artist's Statement—Susan Kay Rogers

March 8-April 15, the Ethical Society gallery will feature Susan Kay Rogers, who enjoys working outdoors, where nature is the instructor. She is inspired by the disappearing landscape being claimed by urban sprawl, creating paintings that help preserve these quiet scenes and slowing down the fast pace of our everyday lives. Susan writes, "When painting en plein air or in my studio it is important to work with efficiency. Simplifying what I see is a necessity. My goal is to capture the essence of the light and the magic that drew me to the scene in the first place"; (susanrogersart.com). The reception for her exhibit is Sunday, March 11 at 12:30 p.m.

Out and About—Outreach Report for February from James Croft

In February we had a huge outreach success for the Society with the "Ethics of Star Trek" presentation, which brought in more than 100 people to explore the ethics of one of the world's most successful TV series. The event also solidified our relationship with the Academy of Science St. Louis, which is now planning to hold an "ethics of science" series later in the year—an excellent example of how partnerships with external organizations can lead to wins for the Society. I also visited the Ethical Culture Society of Silicon Valley, where I presented a Platform Address, gave a workshop, and spoke with their board about promoting membership growth. Our experience as a large Society was of great interest to them, and we wish them well in their efforts to grow. I also spoke at outreach events for the Sierra Club and Diversity Awareness Partnerships.

Should the Ethical Society of St. Louis Support Statehood for DC?

The Washington Ethical Society has asked Societies across the country to submit resolutions advocating statehood for Washington DC, whose citizens bear the responsibilities of citizenship but do not enjoy all of the rights of citizenship, including authority over state and local matters and representation in both houses of Congress.

At our February Board meeting, we discussed and supported having the Ethical Society of St. Louis sign a resolution in support of DC statehood. We will be voting on the issue at our March Board meeting, but first we are providing members with an opportunity to express concerns about our intention to approve a resolution. If you are a member and have concerns, questions, or objections, please share your thoughts with any Board Trustee, or contact Board President Carole Beere via phone at (859) 912-2044 or email at Carole.Beere@cmich.edu. We welcome your input.

"We Think Good" Saturday-Afternoon Philosophy Discussion Group

Three Saturdays in March, 2–4 p.m., Jason Chen (PhD Philosophy candidate at SLU) will lead a workshop on ethical and political philosophy and theory. Each session begins with a presentation, leading into guided discussion. The workshop is designed for newcomers, so don't be shy! The March topics are "The Ethics of Self-Driving Cars" (March 3); "The Ethics of Using Technology to Track Our Children"

(March 17); and "The Ethics of Cloning" (March 31). You can also keep up with the group on Meetup, <https://www.meetup.com/wethinksgood/>.
